FOREWORD

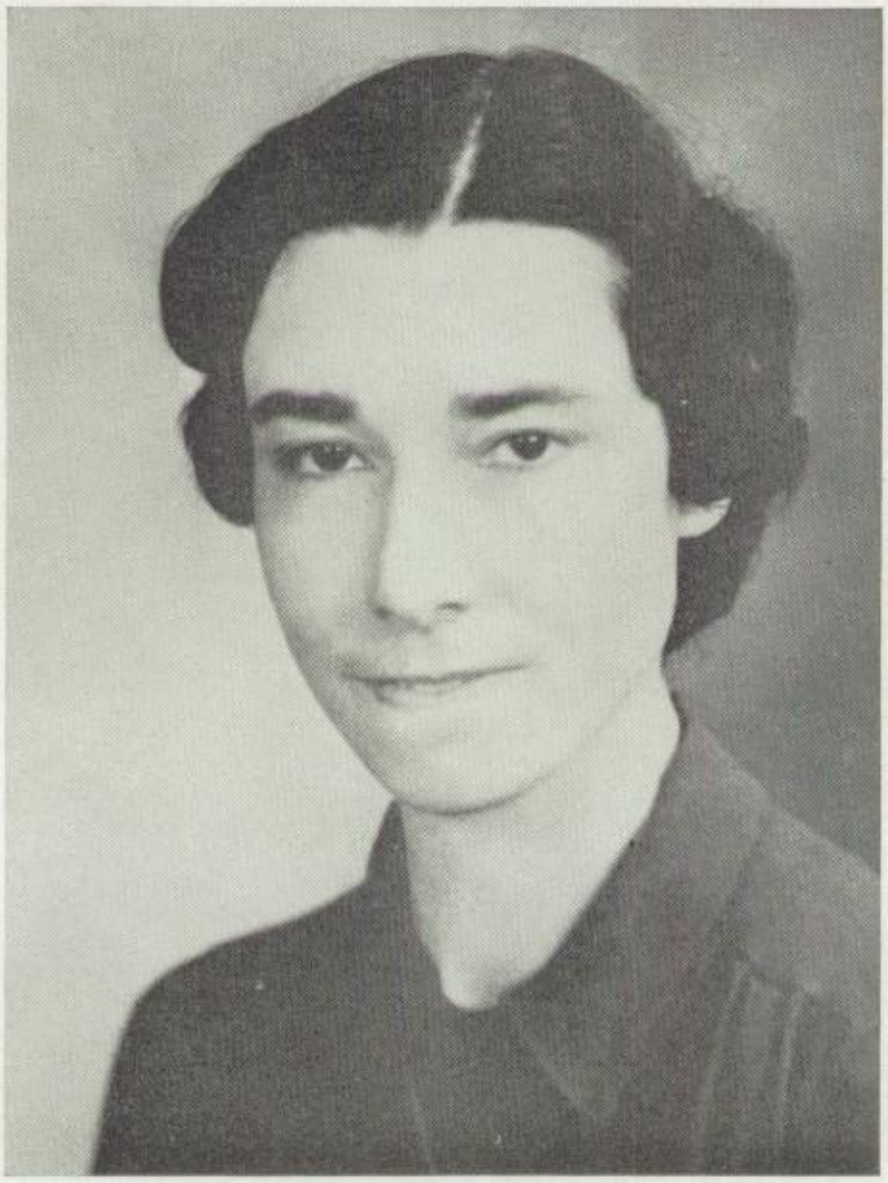
As you enter the door and cross the threshold of this book, the Senior Class invites you to meet the personnel of the high school, to observe the work of the various departments, and to note the many activities which are a vital part of our school.

The seniors are proud of their high school. They feel deeply indebted to all of those persons who have made this fine school system possible.

The members of the Class of 1940 wish to express their appreciation for the educational guidance and the useful training which was given to them while they were enrolled in the Upper Sandusky High School.

LaVerne Weatherholtz.

DEDICATION



As a mark of appreciation for her aid in our school work and her patience as the adviser of this year's Annual, the 1940 Indian Village is dedicated to

MISS LUCY HETZEL

CLAIR HOLLAND

IN MEMORIAM

At the height of a life of service, a man's work was done. The faculty and the students in the Upper Sandusky Schools feel keenly the loss of Mr. Holland. He was devoted to his work; his help and his counsel are sadly missed by all.

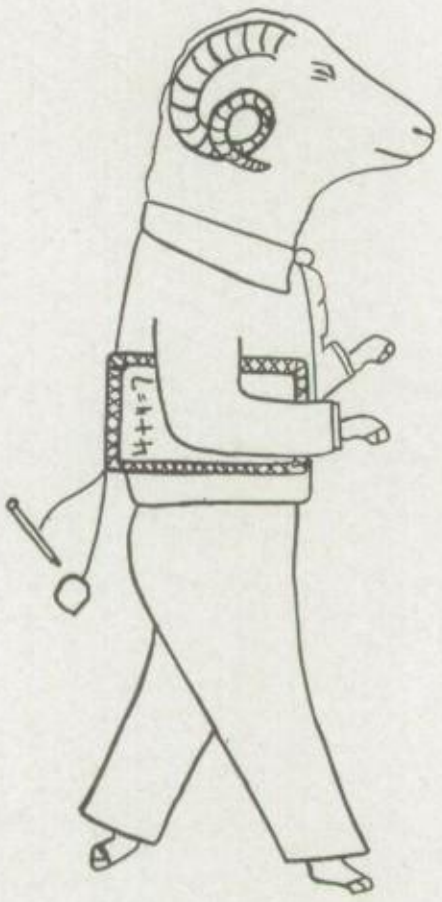
Tale of the Ram



The cognomen "Rams" was given to the athletic teams of U. S. H. S. for the first time in the fall of 1939. At the suggestion of Coach Pierson, a contest was conducted by the local newspaper to choose an appropriate nickname for the athletic teams. As a result, the "Ram" came timidly into U. S. H. S.

He mingled freely with the faculty and the students. He enlivened many otherwise dull class recitations; he aroused the enthusiasm of the student body as they gathered in the big gym for pep rallies; he invaded various school organizations as his popularity grew, but the Ram was the most popular on the football gridiron and on the basketball floor.

Mr. Ram seemed to forget his timidity as he followed the teams into the thick of the fray. Not a few of the opposing players felt the "ramming" force and the grim determination which was put forth by Upper's football eleven and basketball quintet.

As the close of the school year approached, Mr. Ram was caught up in a whirl of activities centering around the seniors and their graduation exercises. He realized that the time for many of his friends to depart was rapidly approaching. At last the long anticipated day arrived when the members of the Class of 1940 received their diplomas, and Mr. Ram regretfully said "au revoir" to his departing senior friends.

While the world seems to be torn by war and the threats of war, our wish and desire is that you may be an active force in the future for establishing peace upon the principle of love toward one another.

It is our hope that you may be instrumental in promoting such a spirit in our great democracy so that it will be a beacon light to all nations, for that would be putting love for one another into realization.

POST GRADUATES

This is the eighth year that Junior College courses have been offered in the Upper Sandusky High School. Some twenty students returned as post graduates last fall to take advantage of this work. The students are privileged to take almost any subject that they may desire. Bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, psychology, college English, mathematics, chemistry, drawing, physics, and home economics were among some of the subjects chosen this year.

Senior Band

STRIKE UP THE BAND!

At its forceful reverbrations we all stopped to listen, for we love its stirring music. We thrilled with pride as we watched the boys and girls in their snappy uniforms march majestically across the gridiron, or lead a parade along the streets of our town.

The Senior Band followed the football team to all of the games except Harding High. Its music added color and enthusiasm to the games. This year the band made a very fine showing on the football field. The drills and formations displayed between halves were well executed and much appreciated by football fans. During the year the band participated in a two-day festival at Paulding, Ohio and acted as host to a number of bands from other schools at our annual Band Festival on May 3.

Mr. Assenheimer ably directed the band. He was assisted by the following officers: Robert McClain, president; Paul Hildebrand, vice-president; Richard Schoenberger, secretary and treasurer, and Creighton Moon, librarian. The drum majors were Patricia Cornely and Creighton Moon.

We, the senior members of the band, wish to express our appreciation to Mr. Assenheimer for his able leadership. In parting we wish the band much success in the years to follow.

HELEN RANGELER.

Music Fills the Air

THE SWING BAND, THE SOPHISTICATED SWINGSTERS

of U. S. H. S., has become quite popular with the student body. It has furnished music for school parties and was in demand for numerous functions outside of school.

Tho band was composed of eleven members. The leader of the group was Charles Pagnard. This year the band was fortunate in having the assistance of Mr. Assenheimer who willingly aided them twice a week in rehearsals.

JANE KERR.

THE SENIOR ORCHESTRA

is one of the finest organizations of our school. Of all the fine arts, music is perhaps the most uplifting and the most inspirational to both the player and the listener.

Thirty-one boys and girls met three times a week, under the direction of Mr. Assenheimer for the purpose of becoming better musicians. One had only to listen to a selection by the orchestra to know that much progress was being made.

Annually the orchestra elects officers to guide them in their work. This year James Moon served as president; Creighton Moon as vice-president; Virginia Hollanshead as secretary and treasurer, and Barbara Bowman as librarian.

JANE KERR.

has completed its second successful year under the leadership of Mr. Assenheimer. If you were a basketball fan you have both seen and heard them at the games. Students followed the pulsating rhythm of their music down to the big gym for frequent pep meetings during the year.

The Pep Band was composed of one or more members from each section of the Senior Band. This organization has helped to create the will-to-win at pep meetings and at basketball games. Whenever enthusiasm, plus a lot of noise was needed, the members of the pep band were on hand to supply a quantity of both. Without them school life would be much too quiet and dull, so we are hoping that they will be with us again next year.

HERMAN SPELLERBERG.

Melody Takes Form

THE SENIOR CHORUS

and the glee clubs of U. S. H. S. have worked diligently to bring forth and to present harmony that is satisfying and pleasing. Under the able direction of Mr. Assenheimer, voices have been developed and talent has been discovered.

The Senior Chorus is composed of both boys and girls who are selected from the two glee clubs. This year the chorus boasts of forty-seven members and a very efficient pianist, Jane Kerr. The group, along with the various instrumental organizations of our school, participated in many programs presented in the high school auditorium. We are proud of the achievements of the Senior Chorus.

THE SENIOR BOYS' GLEE CLUB

fully realized that "without a song the day would never end" so they proceeded to sing our blues away whenever an opportunity was provided. Thirty-eight boys, some very tall and some very short, some with deep voices and some with scarcely any voice at all, met each Thursday with their instructor, Mr. Assenheimer. They sang spirituals, southern melodies, classical scores, and ditties of every sort with all the enthusiasm and vigor of modern youth. In passing, all we can say is that we are sorry we did not have an opportunity to hear these aspiring young artists more often.

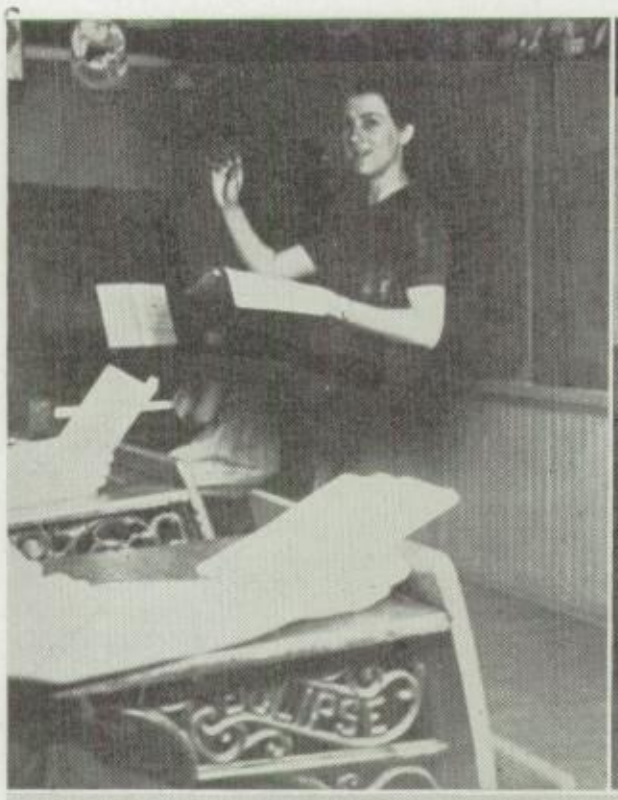
THE SENIOR GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

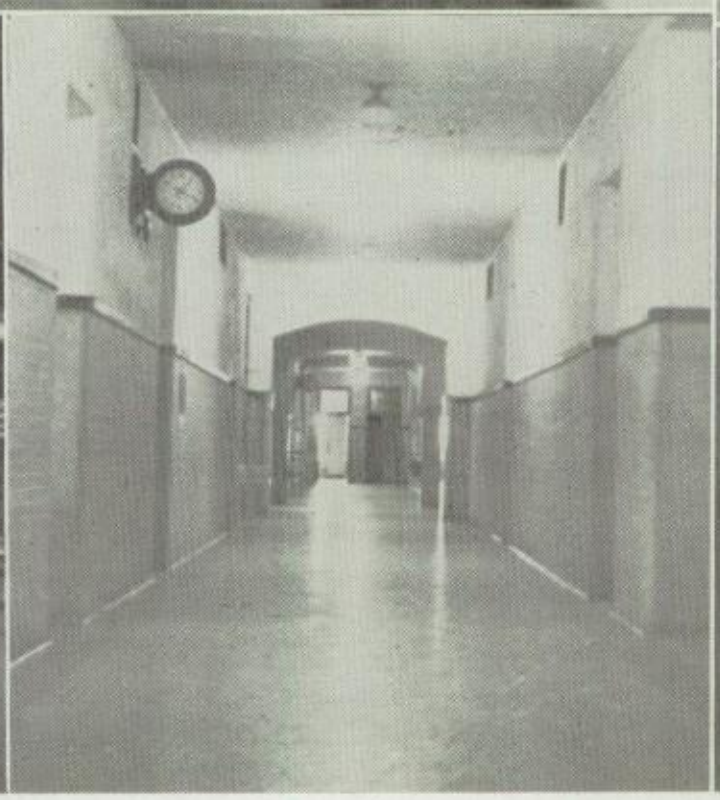
afforded musical training for those who were interested in voice culture. This year forty-nine girls, under the capable direction of Mr. Assenheimer, took advantage of the opportunities afforded by this musical organization. The girls sang for school programs, and their selections were much appreciated by the audience.

The girls met once each week in the auditorium for practice. Virginia Hollanshead ably accompanied the group on the piano. From this group of girls and from the Boys' Glee Club, members of the Senior Chorus were selected.

JANE KERR.

Music Hath Charms





THE JUNIOR CHORUS

has had an interesting calendar of events during the year. For several months the chorus studied the music and the customs of many foreign countries. Octavo work proved to be another popular study for the girls. The chorus, which met twice a week under the able direction of Miss Artz, was divided into three sections – first and second sopranos and altos. This group did considerable three-part singing and enjoyed it very much.

As a result of the training received in this musical organization, the members of the Junior Chorus have enriched their knowledge and appreciation of music.

RUTH WITHROW.

THE JUNIOR BAND,

a group of eager lads and lassies, worked diligently this year in order to improve their technique and to increase their knowledge of instrumental music. Most of these young musicians have fond hopes of becoming members of the Senior Band as soon as that opportunity arrives.

Our school offers its students various educational activities in addition to regular class work. The Junior Band, directed by Mr. Assenheimer, offers younger students, who are musically inclined, an opportunity to prepare themselves for more advanced musical training. In addition to the educational value of such training, much pleasure is derived from the regular rehearsals, and a co-operative spirit is fostered among the members of the band.

JOYCE HETZEL.

THE MAIN CORRIDOR IN THE UNION BUILDING

serves as a thoroughfare for faculty members and students. The office of our superintendent is located near the center of this corridor. Here Mr. Moore may be found at his desk ready to listen to our problems and willing to help us solve our difficulties.

At the west end of this lengthy hallway is located the office and the classroom of our principal. Mr. Houpt stands steadfast at the wheel working out the problems of our school and guiding many pupils along the proper paths of knowledge.

What finer example of school life could be found than this corridor along which students may meet fellow classmates, consult members of the faculty, read a bit in the library, secure a textbook, or even gossip a bit between classes?

Fellowship and Fun

was the theme of the Girl Reserves this year. The meetings, which were designed to develop the personality of each girl, were in charge of committees under the guidance of cabinet officers. During the year speakers were heard on such subject as: health, good grooming, charm, and etiquette.

This organization, under the supervision of the adviser, Miss Pease, and the assistant adviser, Miss Alban, endeavored to give its members outside activities which were educational and entertaining. The most outstanding of these activities were: the annual Gypsy Hike, the Kiddies' Christmas Party, the Leap Year Party, the Mother-Daughter Banquet, and the Senior Breakfast. The Girl Reserves also sponsored a play, "The Other Ghost."

To create friendship among the girls, the Big Sister idea, a plan whereby the senior members took charge of the pledges, was carried out. The year's program was concluded with a second Gypsy Hike, at which time the officers for the ensuing year were installed.

ANN MILLER.

F. F. A. ACTIVITIES

for the year were varied, educational, and interesting. Each student had a supervised practice in addition to his project program. An indexed notebook that is growing into a usable work was begun by each member of the organization.

The local and county corn-husking contest last fall, the Oratorical Contest, the Parliamentary Procedure Team, the Apple and Potato Judging teams, and the pest hunt were outside activities participated in by the class.

The winning of the Sixth District basketball championship was an outstanding accomplishment for the F. F. A.

"I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and to think clearly," was the motto for the year.

PAUL MYERS.

A PROGRESSIVE HI-Y CLUB

has completed another very interesting year. The increased interest, which came as a result of a strong membership drive last fall, brought into the club a large number of new boys, all pledged to "create, establish, and extend throughout the high school and the community high standards of Christian living." Their motto was "Clean speech, clean scholarship, clean living, and clean athletics."

The members of the club took part in the various meetings, parties, and swims which were held throughout the year. They were the guests of the Girl Reserves at a Leap Year Party.

The officers this year were: Paul Smythe, president; Herman Spellerberg, vice-president; Tom Bowman, secretary, and James Moon, treasurer. Mr. Tschantz was the adviser.

PAUL SMYTHE.

Progress and Culture

THE PHONETIC WRITERS' CLUB

is an organization of the Senior Shorthand students. New views of business life are brought to the members through interesting speakers who hold responsible business positions. In this way the members become familiar with the requirements that are to be met before they can successfully hold commercial positions.

The officers for the year were: Carl Schwabel, president; Virginia Wilson, vice-president; Mary Louise Blair, secretary-treasurer. Miss Jean Golling is the sponsor.

THE PURPOSES OF EL CIRCULO CASTELLANO

de Cortez y La Sociedad Internacional de Las Estudiantes are: a more enlightened Americanism through an appreciation of the Spanish origin of a significant part of our national culture, an effective substitute for travel as a means for achieving desirable interests, attitudes, and appreciation in the field of Spanish and Spanish-American cultures, and a background in worthy attitudes, interests, and opportunities for integration with other fields of the curriculum and with community life.

Excluding Haiti, Brazil, and the few small British, French and Dutch colonies, Spanish is the language of all of the Western world south of the United States. The students had correspondence with pupils in these various countries, thus increasing their knowledge of the Spanish people and their language.

Helen Bils led the group as president, with the help of Ted Blaser as vice-president, Mary Louise Blair as secretary, Robert McClain as treasurer, and the entire club as assistants. Miss Helen Pease was the adviser of the club.

HELEN BILS.

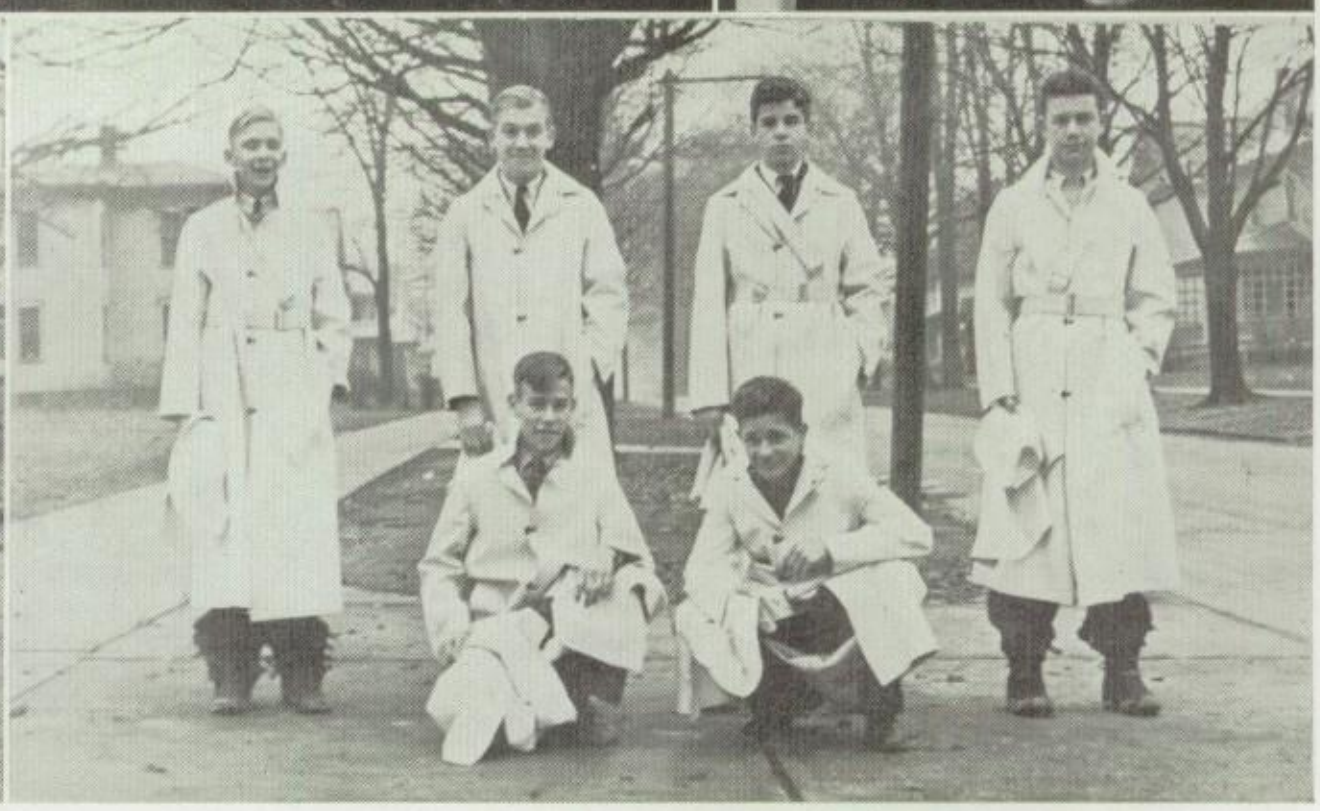
CICERO AND VERGIL

would probably fancy this group above all others. The Latin Club, Sodalitas Latina, was composed of third and fourth-year students. The group enjoyed several interesting meetings at the homes of various members.

The officers for the club were: Edwin Clinger, president; Anita Walton, vice-president; Patricia Vivian, treasurer, and Richard Swoverland, secretary. Miss Erma Stearns was the class instructor and club adviser.

LAVERNE WEATHERHOLTZ.

Learning By Doing



THE OFFICE WORKERS'

group is composed of volunteer workers from the various typing classes. They constitute a staff which very cheerfully aids Miss Slemmer and Miss Golling in carrying out the innumerable clerical duties of the school. Their work consists of making up and distributing the daily absentee records, distributing mail, typing copies of tests, plays, essays, songs, and other material for the teachers and for many organizations of the community, cutting stencils for programs and tickets for school and church entertainments. The Office Workers give unselfishly of their time and energy, and we wish to express the school's appreciation of them.

HOME ECONOMICS CLASSES

Dining car number two!
Here's something really new;
Watch out for the Home Ec. Class
Led by Miss Stearns, a very cheerful lass.

Their desserts are always delicious,
The main dish is very nutritious.
They're careless with their laughter,
It rings from every wall and rafter.

They co-operate in a business way,
Don't let that lead you astray.
They sing, dance, and tease,
But try awfully hard to please.

This is a very important call,
Approach with care, prices low—
Upper Sandusky Home Ec
Let's go!

JEAN GILLESPIE.

A BOYS' SAFETY PATROL

was organized in the fall of 1938 for the purpose of protecting school children. This organization proved so successful that it was continued a second year.

Seven high-school boys, under the supervision of Irvin Tschantz, made up the patrol. Ray Young, James Kauble, and Justin Walton were on duty in the morning and again in the evening. Charles Slemmer, Richard Schoenberger, Richard Swoverland, and Edward Strasser had charge of noon-hour patrol duties.

In addition to guarding crossings near the school, these boys made themselves very useful on the playground. The patrol served faithfully in all kinds of weather. The work of this organization is much appreciated, and the boys are to be commended for their fine work.

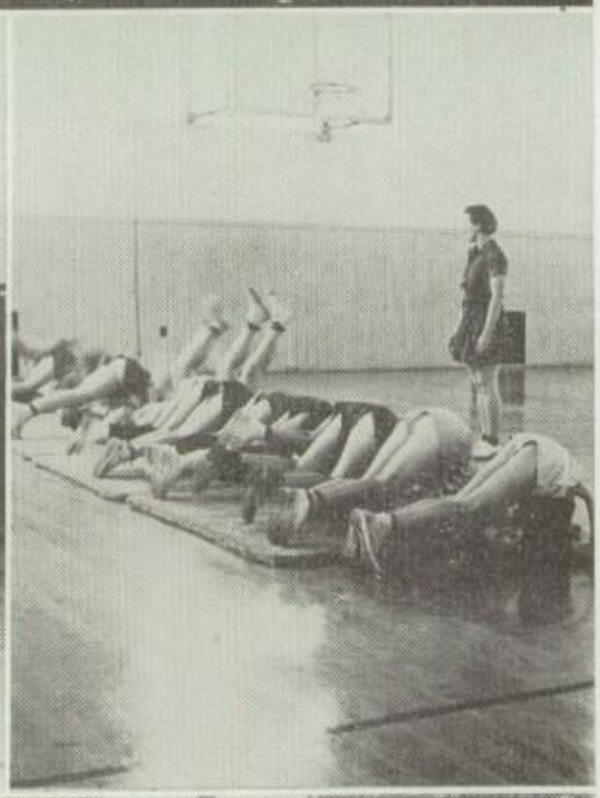
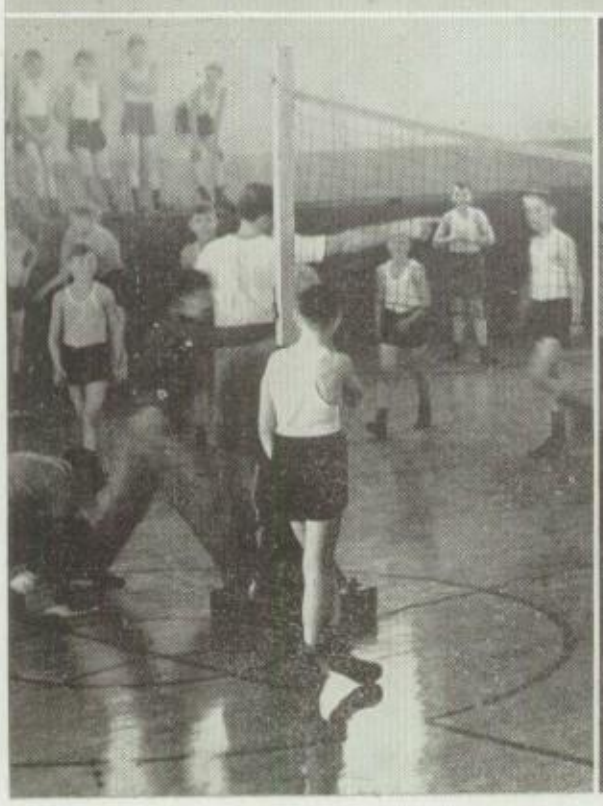
Athletics

Healthful Training





MEMBERS OF THE ATHLETIC BOARD

spent much time and effort endeavoring to give all boys and girls who wish to participate in some form of athletics an opportunity to do so. It is through this board that games are scheduled, equipment purchased, letters awarded, and the athletic program, in general, determined.

The board this year was composed of Mr. Cope, director; Mr. Houpt, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Osborn, member of the board of education; Mr. Gottfried, faculty manager; Miss Miner, girls' physical education; Mr. Henderson, basketball coach; and Mr. Pierson, football coach.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLASSES

broke the monotony of classroom routine twice a week. A large number of girls registered for these classes, and Miss Miner endeavored to make the program varied and interesting.

The principal sports were: basketball, volley-ball, tumbling, and dancing. When the weather permitted, baseball, soccer baseball, and other outdoor games were played.

For the benefit of the entire school, intramural tournaments in basketball and volley-ball were held.

The physical education classes gave demonstrations of their work between halves at several basketball games this year.

ANN MILLER.

BOYS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLASSES

this year were made up of eighty boys ranging from the seventh to the twelfth grades.

At the beginning of the year the boys were supervised by Fred Pierson, but due to his resignation Coach Dave Henderson took charge of the work.

The boys were divided into four classes with class leaders for each group. These squads served as competitive teams in the various sports which were a part of their class work. Early spring called for tumbling, baseball, track, and field work as well as fundamental group and squad games.

Top Row—COACH HENDERSON, MORRIS GILLESPIE, FRANK ROBEY, CHESTER SHAMBAUGH, ARTHUR WHEELER, ROBERT WEATHERHOLTZ, DON REYNOLDS, BILL WOOD, LAWSON ILES, JUNIOR SNYDER, DANIEL CRATES, COACH PIERSON.

Row three—DELBERT BARTH, ROBERT HECKER, CHARLES RUSSEL, DONALD YOUNG, JOHN DARDINGER, BILL DREXEL, DICK SWOVERLAND, CALVIN CRATES, EDWARD RODEHEAVER.

Our football squad proved itself a dependable and a hard-fighting team on the gridiron. With only a few exceptions, the team returned to the showers after each game with spirits high and with another victory won.

An outstanding event of the season was the Rams' victory over that practically undefeated Carey eleven, although the odds were all on the Blue and White.

Senior Varsity

CAPTAIN FRANCIS HETZEL, Halfback – His ability as a player and his good sportsmanship made Francis the worthy captain of his team.

DALE HUDSON, Quarterback – "Squeak" was the team's handyman; a player equal to one hundred-ten pounds of dynamite.

VERCO WEATHERHOLTZ, Right Guard – "Carmichael" played in every game. He was a valuable asset to the team.

ARTHUR WHEELER, Left Tackle – "Art" was a modest man who fought hard under fire and really got results.

DON REYNOLDS, Center – Don was big, tough, and full of fight. He knew his football, he was invaluable to the team.

EUGENE BOWER, Fullback – "Fleet-foot" was the fastest man on the team and the best ball carrier.

CHESTER SHAMBAUGH, Right Tackle – "Chet" was a three-year man. He will be hard to replace next year.

LA VERNE WEATHERHOLTZ, Left Guard – A player who could give as well as take. LaVerne said little, but he played hard and consistently.

JUNIOR SNYDER, Left End – Dependable, fast. The man who was usually elected to carry the ball on end-around plays.

Football Facts

THE HARDING-UPPER TILT,

our season's opener, proved to be an exciting and scrappy game. Under the guidance of two new coaches, the team treked to Harding High School. The Upper Rams were outplayed by a larger and more experienced team, and they lost by a 34 to 12 count.

THE LA RUE-UPPER TILT

found the Rams brimming over with determination. Upper plowed into the LaRue team, and with ease defeated them 60 to 0.

THE ST. WENDELIN-UPPER TILT

gave the team a jolt that they won't forget. The Rams went to Fostoria rated two to one the better team, and played a decisive game for four quarters. However, when the final gun was fired, the cards had turned in favor of the Saints. Score 13 to 0.

THE CALVERT-UPPER TILT

represented one of the best comebacks of the season when Upper surprised the over-confident Calvert team. The Rams accomplished a phenomenal feat by tying the powerful Tiffin-Calvert championship team 7 to 7.

THE MADISON-UPPER TILT

brought disappointment to the Rams who journeyed to Mansfield again rated to win. Outplaying their rivals and leading 7 to 6 at the half, Upper failed to score in the second half and lost 13 to 7.

THE MARYSVILLE-UPPER TILT

resulted in the biggest defeat of the season. The Rams encountered a two-hundred pound team. A third of Upper's men were on the injured list. Defeat was almost inevitable. The final score read 27 to 0 in favor of Marysville.

THE FOREST-UPPER TILT

brought Upper's team back into its own territory and to teams of its own size. The Rams showed football fans what they could do by defeating Forest 6 to 0.

THE MT. BLANCHARD-UPPER TILT

proved that a team cannot be judged by the number of games lost and won. We dislike to admit it, but the Mt. Blanchard team defeated the Rams 20 to 6 on Upper's own field.

THE CAREY-UPPER CONTEST,

an annual Armistice Day event between Carey and Upper, was a game long to be remembered. Both teams had considerable at stake – reputations, personal pride, the county championship, and best of all, a beautiful new trophy.

From the sound of the opening gun, every player was on his toes giving everything he had. When the final gun sounded, Upper's team quietly packed up its paraphernalia, the "trophy," and thirteen points and came home proud victors after a hard-fought battle.

Our Appreciation

THE SENIOR MEMBERS

of both the football and the basketball teams wish to express their gratitude and appreciation to the athletic board, to the student body, faculty, and local sports fans, and to the coaches for their loyal support and keen interest in the year's athletic program.

Rams Basketball Rams

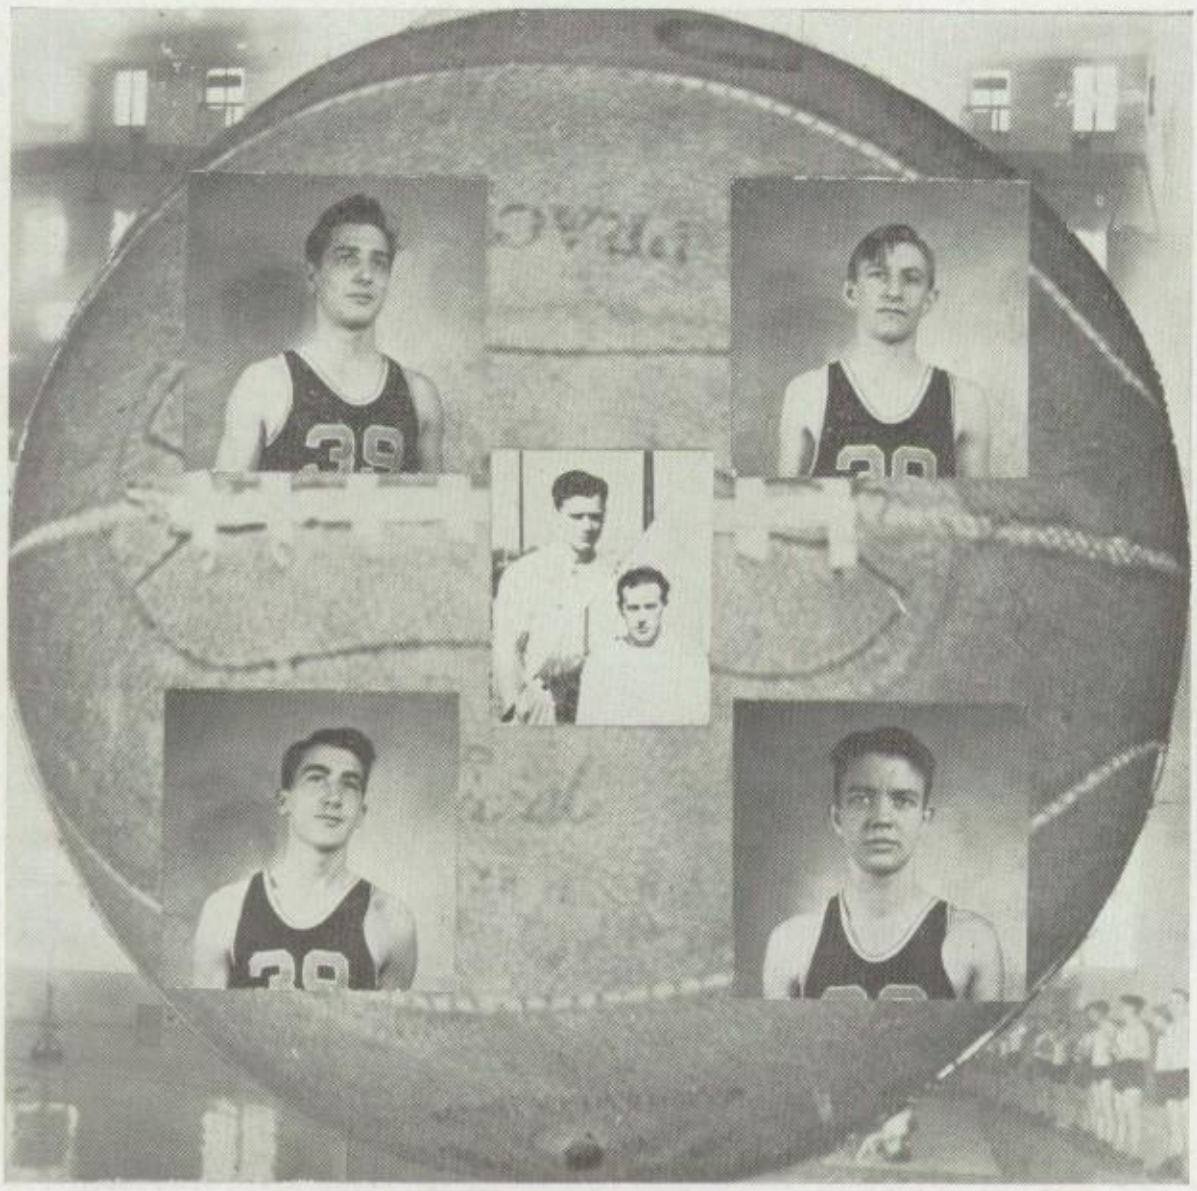
Hetzel, Robey, Guenther, Hudson, Schoenberger, Bowman, and Shambaugh backed by the reserves spelled basketball for Upper High. The Rams played a brand of basketball which was decisive from the start. The team was coached by Dave Henderson. With his efficient help, the Rams won eight of the seventeen games which were scheduled for them in this year.

Frank Robey, Upper's leading scorer and key man, has one more year to play. Dick Guenther, a sophomore, rated varsity this year and showed much ability as a player. Craig Bowman, a junior, showed sparkling ability in the varsity forward position. Dick Schoenberger, also a junior and a reliable man, will make his final appearance on the varsity next year. Lawson Iles and Creighton Moon topped the reserves in playing ability, and they will be important figures among the regular players next year. The other reserves were faithful and loyal, and they, too, deserve a vote of thanks from their teammates and friends.

VERCO WEATHERHOLTZ.

Senior Basketeers



CHESTER SHAMBAUGH – Although not a regular starter, "Chet" had what it takes to be a real player – confidence and determination.

DALE HUDSON – The smallest man on the team, but not the least in skill. A tough game never daunted "Squeek."

FRANCIS HETZEL – An aggressive player who developed into a reliable defense man; he ably served as acting captain most of the season.

JUNIOR SNYDER – A splendid example of how hard work and a good attitude serves to develop a dependable basketball player.

Intramural Sports

During the basketball season an intramural basketball program was arranged. Each class and the faculty were represented. These games were played every Tuesday after school and provided much entertainment for both spectators and participants. The final figures went something like this: the ninth grade won for junior high, and the tenth grade won for senior high.

Immediately following the basketball season, the annual foul-shooting contest took place. Frank Robey starred for the senior-high boys, Kenneth McKee for the junior-high boys, and Gertrude Myres took first place among the girls.

A new sport will enter U. S. H. S. this spring. Horseshoe pitching teams are to be organized, and many enthusiastic players are anxious to enter into this outdoor sport.

Due to the fact that U. S. H. S. will have no regulation baseball team this spring, an interclass baseball schedule is being arranged by Coach Henderson. The junior high boys will compete with the senior-high boys for the championship.

On the whole, the athletic program in our school has been a successful one. Many of the boys and the girls will review the various events of the year with pleasure. May we take this opportunity to express our thanks to those who have made better athletics possible in our school during 1939-1940.

Activities

Annual Staff

All things must have a beginning. The 1940 Indian Village had its beginning at a Senior meeting in the fall, when LaVerne Weatherholtz was elected Editor-in-Chief. A very efficient staff was promptly organized with Robert McClain as business manager. Under the direction of Miss Hetzel, operations soon began in earnest.

The photography staff, which was managed by Thomas Bowman, began its work quite early in the year. This group found itself confronted with many difficulties as it tried to arrange schedules for the pictures of all the classes and organizations in U. S. H. S. Long hours were spent in attempting to get just the right pictures.

Meanwhile, the advertising solicitors under the supervision of Arthur Wheeler were busy. They found that they, too, had no easy task. Working at odd hours, and sometimes under trying circumstances, this group contributed greatly to the financial success of our annual.

Soon after the second semester began, Paul Smythe met with his sales group and mapped out a campaign. The Senior Class was divided into several groups. The annual salesmen, with the help of the entire class, made an intensive canvass of the school and the local community for they were determined to sell three hundred copies of the 1940 Indian Village.

All of this time, the editorial staff had been busily arranging the materials and pictures, composing interesting white-ups, and assembling the book. The planning of a suitable "dummy" was a Herculean task according to the editor, but each member of the staff was assigned some definite part, and the work went forward without too many hitches. The sound judgment of Ann Miller, the assistant editor proved invaluable to the staff as it labored over editorial and financial problems during the year.

The treasurer, Miriam Will, had considerable responsibility, but she proved herself to very efficient and helpful in handling the financial problems connected with the publication of our year book.

The Annual Staff, with the generous assistance of Miss Hetzel, our adviser, has published a book which should serve as a lasting memorial for this year's graduating class.

The Editor-in-Chief wishes to take this opportunity to thank the members of his staff and Miss Hetzel for their co-operation and assistance in making the publication of the 1940 Indian Village possible.

Senior Class History

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! We, the Class of 1940, do hereby announce our departure from these halls of learning. In the past four years we have striven to set new standards of scholarship; and now, as we sally forth, we leave behind us this standard as a goal for lower classmen.

Seldom has there been a class quite so conspicuous for its scholarship rating and for its participation in school activities. Didn't we in our freshman and sophomore years give parties which were highlights of the season? As juniors we produced that never-to-be-forgotten play, "The Spy." Moreover, we upheld the tradition of U. S. H. H. by banqueting the seniors royally.

But it was as seniors that we really shone. Fleeting glimpses of the outstanding events reveal the benefit movie, the senior party, and the delightful reception given to us by the junior class. Finally, the 1940 Indian Village Annual which we edited will serve as a memorial to mark our passing.

Graduation will part us as a class, but we shall always remember that we once worked and played together, and that our motto was "Whatever is worth doing at all, is worth doing well."

GWENDOLYN MYRES.

A Challenge

For twelve long years we've gone to school
And studied books and minded rules;
Walked back and forth through heat and snow,
And watched vacations come and go.

We've studied hard to pass our tests,
Get good grades and all the rest;
And now that we are safely through
It's up to us what next to do.

Whatever we do, let's do it well,
So that future generations will tell
That the Class of 'Forty stood high in line,
And never since has ceased to shine.

SYNOPSIS

"Love levels all ranks," said the Admiral when he asked the captain's daughter to marry him. However, Josephine had other ideas and aided by the crew of H. M. S. Pinafore, she attempts to elope with a sailor, Ralph Rackstraw. They are caught and Ralph is put in the brig.

Suddenly the captain and Ralph find that they have exchanged places when it is revealed that their identities are mixed. The captain changes his mind about rank at once, since his daughter, Josephine, is now the daughter of a common sailor. Thus she is free to make her choice and is married to Ralph without further delay.

SYNOPSIS

A vice-president of a bank does not have much time to manage a family, so Richard Early leaves this to his wife, Emily. After having been shielded for many years, the children rebel against the established order of their lives, and attempt to think for themselves. One son, Dick, wants to get married, but his family persuaded him against the venture.

During the vacation of their parents the children take over the household. The new lack of discipline intoxicates them, and Hope, the eldest, realizes their inability to cope with the financial problems brought up by unexpected emergencies. She calls in a close friend, Sanford Welles, who comes to their aid. Just as he snatches their crumbling world from chaos, Richard and Emily return from their cruise. They detect nothing wrong, and compliment the children on their good management. The children think it a good policy to say nothing of their trials.

Senior Class Will

We, the Seniors, being of fairly sound minds, do wish, before ending our careers in the Upper Sandusky High School, to make and publish this, our last will and testament.

I, Frederick Balduf, will my taste for loud socks to Maurice Thiel.

I, Ethel Barth, will my athletic stride to Jean Burks.

I, Clifford Bear, will my tendency for napping in assemblies to Russell Swinehart.

I, Richard Beinbrech, will my "strikes and spares" in bowling to Bill Milum.

I, Helen Bils, will my ability to read poetry to Marvin Crates.

I, Frederick Binau, will my Spanish book to a future Spanish II student.

I, Mary Louise Blair, will my love for history to Margaret Brown.

I, Ted Blaser, will my gum-chewing to Dick Lucas.

I, Eugene Bowers, will all my car troubles to Lawson Iles.

I, Pauline Bowers, will my liking for Spanish to Sarah Jane Osborn.

I, Thomas Bowman, will my knack of snapping candid camera shots to next year's camera field.

I, Mary Jayne Bricely, will my love for the stronger sex to Rosemary Spellerberg.

I, Madelon Brown, will my enthusiasm for dance orchestras to Rosemary Claybaugh.

I, Virginia Caylor, will my stuttering to Miriam Walton.

I, Evelyn Clark, will my restless feet to Ruth Courtad.

I, Maxine Clements, will my singing ability to Betty Layman.

I, Edwin Clinger, will my scholastic ability to James Kauble.

I, Richard Cornely, will my bashfulness to Junior Carr.

I, Donald Courtad, will my wavy locks to Vernon Burks.

I, Hazel Craycraft, will my height to Maxine Hannum.

I, Rita Ann Dannenhauer, will my braces to whomever has patience to wear them.

I, Hazel Earp, will my "bookwormishness to Margaret Wuescher.

I, Marjorie Frederick, will my "hookey" habits to Stark Leser.

I, Agatha Frey, will my cowboy songs to Patricia Cornely.

I, Barbara Fritchie, will my fur mittens to Ann Moloney.

We, Ruth and Edwina Dumm, will our individuality as twins to Virginia Hollanshead and Maxine Lyons.

I, Morris Gillespie, will my ability to stay home every night to Dwight Hare.

I, Leota Belle Hall, will my quiet ways to Alice Shafer.

I, Robert Hehr, will my favorite theme song "Margie" to Bob Vivian.

I, Francis Hetzel, will my ability to pump gas to Craig Bowman.

I, Paul Hinderbrand, will my ability to play the cornet to Dick Miner.

I, Virgene Hines, will my fondness for a college boy to Janet Orians.

I, Dale Hudson, will my ability to play football to Dwight Koehler.

I, Junior Iles, will my "lady killer" complex to Eddy Strasser.

I, Jane Kerr, will my position as pianist in the Swing Orchestra to Creighton Moon.

I, Bernard Kin, will my dislike for books to Maurice Logsdon.

I, Aloysius Krantz, will my husky voice to Velma Trachsel.

I, Joan Kuenzli, will my dark hair to Becky Myers.

Senior Class Will

I, Andrew Larick, will my unique personality to Fred Taylor.

I, Jacqueline Laucher, will my winks to a certain senior boy to Maxine Lyon.

I, Byron Lay, will my guesswork to Paul Newcomer.

I, Mary Alice Lucas, will my art of combing curls to Patricia Vivian.

I, Robert McClain, will all those corks I swiped in chemistry lab to Murray Withrow.

I, Glenn McClain, will my late hours to Eugene Esterline.

I, Gwendolyn Myers, will my freckles to that person with a peaches and cream complexion.

I, Paul Myers, will my ability to outtalk Mr. Geiger to Russell Swinehart.

I, Charles Pagnard, will my extra one-half credit to Justin Walton.

I, George Pfeifer, will my liking for this institution of learning to Maurice Thiel.

We, Alice Pfeifer and Betty Stury, will our inseparableness to two other pals such as we.

I, Helen Rangeler, will my ambition to be another "Florence Nightingale" to Floy Jane Houser.

I, Marvin Swinehart, will my great hoard of wooden nickels to Dick McClain.

I, Don Reynolds, will my ability to "fix things up" to anyone who needs it.

I, Carl Schwabel, will my Romeo instincts to anyone else so inclined.

I, Chester Shambaugh, will my easy-going manner to Jim Moon.

I, Gale Smith, will my technique in stacking lockers to LeRoy Gottfried.

I, Paul Smythe, will my ambition to sing with Chuck's orchestra to Craig Bowman.

I, Junior Snyder, will my earmuffs to "Cal" Robey.

I, Mary Jane Stansbery, would also like to will away my freckles.

I, Betty Jane Walton, will my "gift of gab" to Jean Burks.

I, Kenneth Walton, will my power to toot a car horn to Jim Bickham.

I, La Verne Weatherholtz, will those headches received while editor of the 1940 annual to my successor.

I, Verco Weatherholtz, will my love for nine senior girls, twelve junior girls, and six sophomore girls to Bill Wood.

I, Thomas Stephan, will my skill at playing nuisance to Carl Fisher.

I, Anita Mae Walton, will my love of languages to Ann Myers.

I, Eva Welker, will my out-of-town boy friends to Gertrude Myers.

I, Miriam Will, will my low voice to Edwin Lawrence.

I, Arthur Wheeler, will my wooing ability to Stark Leser.

I, Marjorie Wolfrum, will my "Hehr" to Leefealice McClain.

I, Ruby Williams, will my desire to travel to a stay-at-home.

I, Madelyn Robey, will my desire for new clothes to Carol Strub.

I, Herman Spellerberg, will my ability to accumulate equipment in chemistry lab to Dick Schoenberger.

I, Alta Mae Young, will all of my excess height over 5 feet 2, to Yvonne Culver.

I, Robert Johns, will my loud ties to Don Young.

We, Virginia Wilson and Ann Miller, will our ability as class attorneys to anyone having need of such legal knowledge in the future.

Witnessed and signed this First day of April, 1940.

VIRGINIA WILSON.
ANN MILLER.

Attorneys for the Class of '40.

A Prophecy

It is the glamourous, invigorating, colorful autumn of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-three. It is a time of great turmoil and intense interest. Arthur Wheeler has recently been elected governor of Ohio. Junior Iles has finally graduated from good old U. S. H. S. These two events are memorable, but there are many more to follows.

On a particularly bright sunny morning a luxurious limousine drives up to my large estate and out steps Don Reynolds and his wife, the former Mary Jayne Bricely. They are accompanied by their eight children. Don, after bidding his wife and children to explore the place and have a good time, invites me to go for a ride. I am amazed to learn that his car is equipped with the latest revolutionary inventions of Professors Edwin Clinger and Herman Spellerberg.

Don presses a button and instantly the wheels fold under the car and we are flying through the air. Looking down, I understand the need for our sudden ascent. Blockading the road is a WPA project. As we are still flying low, I can easily make out Morris Gillespie, Gale Smith, Byron Lay, and Andrew Larick stretched out beneath a shade tree. Farther along Francis Hetzel is busily shoveling dirt. We are forced to admit that this is a phenomenon, but no wonder he is so busy! Directly behind him stands the boss, Junior Snyder.

We next fly over the new state prison. Don wants to stop to visit his old sidekicks, Eugene Bower, George Pfeifer, and Bob Johns, but we decide that it is too late. We have just time to reach New York where we plan to hear Charles Pagnard's symphony orchestra. In our Clinger Special it is merely a matter of minutes until we reach the large city.

As we walk down the street we notice Ruby William's millinery shop. Just as we pass by the door we are halted by a familiar voice. Inside the shop sits Edwina Dumm. Chester Shambaugh is vainly trying to find just the right hat for Edwina. It was her dissatisfied voice that we had heard as she discarded the seventy-fourth hat.

We hurry on to the theater as our time is growing short. Inside the door we are greeted by the owner, LaVerne Weatherholtz, who seats us in his own box. We manage to sit through a tap dance by Evelyn Clark and Jacqueline Laucher, but we quietly go backstage when Ann Miller offers a vocal solo. In a private interview Ann reveals that she seldom rehearses before a performance. We don't doubt her word.

We return to our box in time to hear the Pagnard Orchestra present several numbers. Jane Kerr shows that she has lost none of her former musical ability as she plays on her piano, a graduation gift.

During intermission we meet, among the crowd, the ping-pong coach at Harvard, Fred Binau. Ruth Dumm and Rita Ann Dannenhauer tell us that they have just returned from Reno. Ted Blaser, Paul Smythe, and Robert McClain have just put their heads together and are manufacturing a new high-grade explosive for the government. My! what a place this is for gossip. Oh, yes! Paul still has his Model A. Perhaps he keeps it as a reminder of former days. We next encounter Fred Balduf who complains bitterly about a business rival's tactics. It seems they are both in the barber-shop business, and his rival has just opened a shop next door. We do not understand why this should worry him until we discover that his competitor is none other than Betty Jane Walton.

We are about to leave when the renowned newspaper reporter, Paul Pagnard, comes in. How he can dash off the dope! He tells us that Maxine Clements is lecturing on Greek mythology in Sleepy Hollow; that Joan Kuenzli is a circus manager, while Mary Louise Blair and Helen Rangeler are the queens of the "big top." Helen Bils tried to teach Spanish but has given it up as a bad job; Richard Beinbrech was an elevator operator in a Chicago hotel until recently when he married an English heiress who had been living at the hotel. Paul also informed us that Dale Hudson refuses to sign a contract with the New York Yankees unless they double his salary; that Tom Bowman is modeling for a New Work artist; that Virginia Wilson has rejected a movie contract because the salary was only a measly $7500 a year; that Carl Schwabel and Leota Belle Hall have just eloped; that Eugene Bower has been released on parole, and that Virgene Hines has entered a figure-skating contest. Paul says that his newspaper is owned and published by Richard Cornely and Bernard Kin.

In the crowd we encounter Mary Alice Lucas who has won this year's beauty contest. We meet Agatha Frey who says that she is co-starring with Tom Stephan on a nation-wide television broadcast. We also hear that Hazel Craycraft and Miriam Will are engaged in secretarial work for Governor Wheeler. Nobody seems to know who has the inside track as he takes one secretary out one night and the other the following evening.

I am completely worn out by this time, and it is a pleasure to return home. We are met at the door by my wife, who, I forgot to say is none other than Barbara Fritchie. She wants Don and I to go to Aloysius Krantz' store to get a nickel's worth of sweet anise, but we refuse. I'm sleepy and I know that if we go we will have to stop at Paul Myers' farm to inquire how the hybrid plants in his extensive greenhouse are maturing. Therefore, we park Don's "fancy job" in a safe place and spend a peaceful morning in dreamless slumber.

THE SEER—V. W.

1939-Cavalcade of School Events-1940

SEPTEMBER

5—Fond memories of the past and pleasant thoughts of the future. Students exchanged their bathing suits, roller skates, and tennis racquets for books of knowledge. It was September, 1939, and the last first day for the Seniors of U. S. H. S.

6—Colonel N. Black, head of the State Highway Patrol, gave a very interesting talk. All student drivers resolved to be more careful after hearing this lecture.

13, 14, 15—School had become quiet settled. But alas! Along came the County Fair. However, there were no hard feelings because classes were dismissed for two days.

15—To make our "fair" holiday more interesting, U. S. H. S. had a football game with Marion Harding under the lights. The Rams played hard, but they lost 34 to 12.

18—El Circulo Castellano journeyed to Crawford just to eat hamburgers (with onions). Miss Pease proved to us that she really could cook (at least fry hamburgers).

19—Camp Pittenger was again invaded when the Girl Reserves held their annual Gypsy Hike with the teachers and the Sophomores as their guests. A paper bearing a message from the class of "39" was dug up and read at this meeting.

21—We all went to the auditorium to hear Stanley, the Electrician, and to see some of his electrical wonders.

22—Our first home football game against LaRue. The Rams were really ramming. They chalked up a score of 60 to LaRue's 0.

25—Everybody look pleasant and don't move! The first pictures for the annual were taken.

25, 26, 27—Senior Meetings. The class chose Herman, Teddy, Ann, and LaVerne to guide them.

25—The Hi-Y had their first meeting at which time they organized the club for the new year.

27—What were all of those pupils doing out in the street? Why, it was a school parade with the band, teachers, and pupils all participating.

29—The Rams journey to Fostoria and battled against St. Wendelin in the rain! And did it pour??? It rained everything except touchdowns for our boys. (The score—St. Wendelin 12 and Upper 0).

OCTOBER

2—Chapel with Earl Conrad, the wrestler, showing us (particularly the boys) how to get the better of our adversaries.

2—The old members of the Girl Reserves met in the sewing room and discussed plans for the coming year.

5—One speech after another until we had heard from all the Senior officers. At this meeting the appointment of Hazel Craycraft as class treasurer was announced.

5—"Let's make this the best year ever," said Miss Pease, when the Girl Reserve officers and cabinet members met at President Blair's to plan the G. R. program for the year.

6—The Hi-Y very gallantly entertained the Girl Reserves at a hamburger fry at Eagle's Park.

6—The Rams played Tiffin Calvert on home territory. AND we tied them 7 to 7!!!

9—Some very interesting pictures of famous cathedrals were shown in the auditorium by J. Howard Albert. His illustrated lecture was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

9—At the second meeting of the Hi-Y, the boys planned a campaign for new members, discussed programs for the year, and made arrangements to entertain the new members at the next meeting.

9—The F. F. A. boys held a corn-husking contest at Hilderbrands. They certainly made the ears fly!!! Paul Myers won first place and his brother, Harold, was second.

16—A "big mixer" for new members, William Hunter as guest speaker, acceptance of 53 new members, a social get-together and refreshments—the Hi-Y really held a successful meeting!!!

20—Why was our school so deserted? Don't you remember? The Rams played Marysville, and everyone who could find a way went with the team to see that game.

23—Hi-Y initiation!!! No wonder some of the boys looked so scared. And were they initiated? Well, just ask some of the Sophomores.

24—The Band and the Orchestra held their annual hamburger fry (this time it was weiners) at Eagle Park. There were doughnuts and an over-abundance of cider for dessert.

24—The El Circulo Castellano met at Senorita Clark's home for a social meeting. A Hallowe'en Party with real Hallowe'eners!!! Some of the Hallowe'eners found out, though, that it doesn't pay to play pranks after 10 o'clock, especially where one can be seen.

25—The Rams played against Forest on home ground. Upper won by one touchdown, the score—6 to 0.

26, 27, 28—The school sponsored "Four Feathers" for the benefit of the needy fund.

27—Our instructors attended teachers' meetings to gain more knowledge. The students welcomed a three-day recess from school routine.

30—Ghosts, witches, clowns, and all sorts of freaks were there. Where? Why at the G. R. Hallowe'en Party, of course.

31—More fun! Mobs of people witnessed the annual Hallowe'en Parade in the evening. The Policemen's Ball was a special feature.

NOVEMBER

1—Novmber got off to an unusual start with the news that Admiral Byrd's snow cruiser was ACTUALLY COMING. The cruiser had been coming for a long time, but this time it really appeared! School was dismissed until afternoon, and everybody saw the much talked of "Cruiser."

3—Pupils assembled in the auditorium for a pep meeting. The football squad was introduced by

1939-Cavalcade of School Events-1940

Coach Pierson. The team played Mt. Blanchard in the afternoon. Oh dear! we lost 20 to 6.

6—Today we gathered in the auditorium to hear Mr. Moore discuss the two mill levy.

7—Election day. Will the school levy lose or win?

8—Fine!!! The levy passed, and the pupils of the Upper Sandusky Schools had a very good reason to feel grateful. Why? Our school work would continue without interruption. Our hearty thanks were extended to those who supported this levy.

8—First day of hunting season. Boys leave school in the afternoon to bag fresh game for supper.

8—Latin Club met at the home of Adda Jane Weiker. A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Edwin Clinger, after which reports on Latin characters were given. Games and songs in Latin were also enjoyed.

9—Lots of stories (told by boastful hunters). We found out how lucky they were when the Rabbit Banquet was served in the school cafeteria.

10—Enthusiastic students of Upper Hi met at the schoolhouse for a "Moonlight" pep meeting. There was a huge bonfire, a snake dance, speeches, and a lot of yells. The most solemn event of the evening was the burning of the funeral pyre which represented Carey's team. Oh, "Heck!"

11—At last! The eventful day had come. The Rams treked to Carey and beat them 13 to 0. Incidentally we won a trophy, too.

12—Annual Staff met at Ann Miller's to discuss plans for the Year Book. The happenings of the day before were so great that we had a good time playing the Carey and Upper football game over again at this meeting.

13—Thirty-one new members were taken into the Girl Reserves in a very impressive candlelight service.

13—Another F. F. A. meeting with recreation in the gym.

14—The G. R. and Hi-Y Rabbit Banquet was a success in spite of the lack of rabbits (the boys failed to produce very many, but they did "catch" some chickens).

16, 17, 18—The Juniors sponsored the shows "The Man in the Iron Mask" and "Colorado Sunset."

20, 21, 22—The teachers gave us a lot of tests before Thanksgiving. I guess they figured that we would forget all we knew when our stomachs were filled with Thanksgiving goodies.

23—F. D. R.'s Thanksgiving, but I think we all took advantage of it and ate all we could hold.

24—No school—Indigestion would probably have kept a lot of us at home anyway.

27—The Girl Reserves met to discuss World Peace.

27—The Hi-Y didn't dare let the G. R. get ahead of them so they held a meeting too.

28—A very enjoyable evening was spent in playing "Hearts" when the El Circulo Castellano Club met at Senorita Blair's. A short business meeting was held and refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

28—The Republicans' Thanksgiving. But we had only the usual time off for lunch with no Thanksgiving dinner.

DECEMBER

1—The "little Freshmen greenhorns" put on their best bibs and tuckers and came back to school to have a party (heard it was quite a party).

2—Our first Basketball game of the season with Sycamore. We won 27 to 15.

5—The first group pictures were taken for the annual.

6—The Latin Club met at the home of Murray Withrow.

7, 8, 9—The Seniors sponsored the show "First Love" starring Deanna Durbin. It proved to be a great success.

8—The Eighth Grade Party. Such a clamor but heaps of fun and no broken bones.

8—Basketball game at Kenton.

11—Miss Helen Brooks, Wyandot County Health Nurse, gave a very interesting talk at the G. R. meeting.

13—Pails got mixed up, and the girls laughed and laughed at dress rehearsal for "The Other Ghost."

14—Lots of laughs, but it was from the audience this time. The G. R. play proved to be very entertaining (so everyone said). The "highlight" of the evening was the presentation of a real orchid to Miss Pease, the director, by the cast. And was she pleased? You guess!!!

15—Highlight of the basketball season was the victory over Fostoria Hi. They came to Upper only to be defeated 33 to 30.

16—The students of Upper Sandusky High School were very much saddened by the death of Mr. Holland, a former teacher who had been granted a leave of absence this year.

18—No school in the afternoon because of Mr. Holland's funeral.

19—Basketball game at Upper with Wharton. They beat us by three points.

20—The "oh! so-grown-up Juniors" held a class party in the auditorium. A very good time was had by all, especially Mr. Gottfried.

21—The final chapel program for 1939 was given by the graduating class of "39." They presented the school with a trophy case and a number of new books. School was dismissed until January(1940. Everyone went around wishing everybody else a Merry Christmas, a Happy New Year, and a pleasant vacation.

21—The Girl Reserves, with the help of the Hi-Y, gave a Christmas Party for some of the less fortunate kiddies in the grades. For a while it was hard to tell which were the kiddies and which the Girl Reserves. Games were played and then Santa Claus came to treat the children with candy, oranges and toys.

1939-Cavalcade of School Events-1940

21—The Rams played the alumni of Upper. Robey whipped one through from the center of the floor in an overtime game. The score was 28 to 26 in favor of the Rams.

22—What, another party this month? Yes, only this time it was for the Sophisticated Sophomores.

JANUARY

2—The New Year's bells had rung and now it was time for the school bells to ring. Everyone back looking fine after a splendid vacation.

3—Initiation of new members in the F. F. A.

4—Dairyman's banquet served by the band mothers.

5—The Rams battled against St. Wendelin on their battleground and (sigh, sigh) they lost 38 to 30.

6—Another basketball game but at Upper with Eden. This time we won 44 to 27.

8—New Year's worship service was conducted at the Girl Reserve meeting.

8—Hi-Y meeting. (I guess it was a secret).

9—No broken bones and only a few mishaps at the G. R. and Hi-Y Coasting Party.

11—Did someone get a letter? Oh yes, the football boys did. They received their football letters in chapel. They were also presented with the trophy which was won on the Carey battleground.

12—Yes, it was our old rival (Carey) again. This time the game was played on the local hardwood instead of the gridiron. They were victorious by two points. Shucks!'

22—Deah! Deah! What are all those poopils studying so hard for. Exams!!! Heh, heh, heh.

22—Miss Ruth Dunlap gave a very interesting talk on good grooming at the G. R. meeting. She demonstrated exercises by which the girls could benefit if they would try them.

23, 24, 25—More exams, more cramming, more intelligent people, and more people wishing they had studied harder.

27—Upper Rams went to Washington Court House. Former Upper Sandusky graduate "Chic" Milligan's charges were just one point better than the Rams.

27—A Hi-Y meeting. How they could hold a meeting without the G. R.'s in the building, I do not know.

29—Grade card after exams. Why was everyone so frightened?

30—President Roosevelt's Birthday was celebrated in Upper by three basketball games in the gym. Upper beat Harpster in an over-time game by two points. Sophomore Dick Guenther, made 2 points in the last three seconds of play, and 2 more points to win the game in an overtime period.

FEBRUARY

2—Ground Hog Day. Did he see his shadow??? Time will tell.

2—A big rally in the gym at noon for Mr. Pierson who was leaving for Tiltonville. The football boys presented him with a gift.

2—St. Wendelin came to Upper and this time the Rams beat them 32 to 30.

5, 6—Farmers' Institute in the auditorium. The school attended the Monday morning session. Music was presented by the Glee Clubs and Chorus under the direction of Mr. Assenheimer.

5—Miss Stearns was the chaperon for the Girl Reserve meeting in the absence of Miss Pease.

8, 9—Band mothers sponsored the show "Balaliki."

9—Why did the pep band and all the pupils march around in the halls? It was a pep meeting and they were en route to the gym. It was to be our last home game and we wanted everyone to know it. However the game was postponed, but we still had a lot of fun and then we were honored by a vocal solo (so low) by Paul Crum (and Co.).

12—Lincoln's birthday. School was dismissed early.

13—Upper Rams went to Mt. Gilead and won by a score of 38 to 34.

14—Valentine Day!!! Did you receive one of those funny-looking valentines, or was yours a box of candy from your boy-friend?

16—Upper Rams went to Ada and lost 46 to 23.

20—I wish I could have been triplets. Fred Stuckey had a program in the auditorium, the opening games of the county tournament were held in the gym, and the Girl Reserves held a meeting in the assembly. In G. R. Miss Matteson talked on interesting hobbies and handicrafts. Mrs. aul Ayres showed us some beautiful woven afghans and explained how to weave them.

21, 22, 23—County Tournament in the gym with Harpster taking top honors and Salem coming out second.

22—The operetta "Pinocchio" was presented by the 5th and 6th grades in the auditorium. I wouldn't be surprised if Walt Disney came around to sign them up.

23—Upper went to Carey and was defeated by 3 points.

26—Girls going after boys, buying them candy, opening doors for them, making them corsages, treating them, and paying all expenses—what is this??? Why, it is leap year and the Girl Reserves gave the Hi-Y boys a party.

28—Class A Tournament at Findlay. Our boys drew Findlay and were defeated 51 to 25. Findlay lated went to state tournament.

28—Wittenberg Banquet at the Bon Ton Restaurant.

29—The Glee Clubs and Chorus went to Eden to present a program with Eden's Glee Clubs and Chorus.

MARCH

4—Miss Golling gave a very interesting talk on charm at the Girl Reserve meeting.

1939-Cavalcade of School Events-1940

4, 5—Interclass basketball tournament with the Junior girls and the Sophomore boys taking top honors.

6—A Ghost Basketball game!!! The former students of U. S. H. S. came back (not to haunt us) but to play this year's basketball team. When the lights were out the score was tied. The lights were turned on and the alumni were victorious by 4 points.

7—The (supposedly) dignified Seniors held an informal party. Mary Alice Lucas, who was in charge of the party and Miss Stearns, the class adviser, deserve credit for their part in making the event a great success.

11—Hi-Y meeting with routine business.

12—Los senores y las senoritas and their Si Si's met at the home of Senorita Clark for the initiation of the new members.

13—The roads were very, very icy and the buses were unable to bring the rural pupils to school. Tough luck! The town pupils had classes as usual.

16—Members of the Annual Staff took several sections of the Year Book to the printer at Bucyrus.

21—First day of spring!!! Either the calendar was wrong or mother nature was playing tricks. It snowed most of the day.

27—"Balmy Days!" And were they balmy! Members of the faculty presented the play "Balmy Days" which was enjoyed by everyone. The pupils were given a chance to see what their teachers could do in a "dramatic way." The proceeds went to the music and athletic organizations.

28—A hundred and fifty persons including the F. F. A. boys, their parents, the teachers, the members of the Board of Education and friends, attended the annual F. F. A. banquet. Dr. W. F. Stewart, of the Ohio State University, was guest speaker.

30—Eighty-three Seniors from Wyandot County met in the Upper High School Building to take a State Senior Scholarship test.

APRIL

1—April Fool's Day! HOW many times were you caught?

2, 3, 4—The Gasco Food Institute held cooking school in the auditorium.

9—Pupils who were to go to Bowling Green were industriously preparing for the ordeal.

10—The Senior section of the Annual was sent to the printer. Soon everyone will be looking at his 1940 copy of the Indian Village Annual.

10—The G. R. went to Tiffin and spent the evening swimming in the pool at the Y. M. C. A.

15—G. R. meeting with Mrs. Craig Bowman as guest speaker.

16—Spanish Club met at Senorita Laucher's. A Pan American Day Program was given. Several new members who were unable to come to the initiation were taken into the club.

17—The Ritz Trumpeteers entertained us in the auditorium.

19—Senior High musical organizations presented the operetta "The H. M. S. Pinafore." Quite nautical, but we liked it.

22—College day. Representatives from various colleges were here to interview the seniors. Did the Seniors skip classes, or were they really college-minded?

22—The new officers for next year's Hi-Y Club were elected.

26—What? Did the Juniors have another party? Yes. They had so much fun at their first one they decided to have another.

29—The Girl Reserves elected the new officers for next year.

29—Ruth Clair Ingles' dance revue.

29, 30—The beginning of Senior Exams. Knowledge is of two kinds—"We know a subject ourselves, or we know where we can find it." We hope the Seniors knew their answers.

MAY

1, 2—The end of exams for the Seniors. What a relief to eighty-two twelfth graders.

3—No more school—for the seniors!

3—The halls of Upper High rang with music and the streets were full of gright uniforms when bands from visiting schools participated in the annual Band Festival.

4—Thirty-two students from the Upper Sandusky High School represented their classes in the Bowling Green State Scholarship Test.

6—"Literature in the Movies" was the theme for the G. R. meeting.

9—The Senior Class presented the play "Foot-Loose."

10, 11—The Band went to Paulding for a two-day band festival.

13—Hi-Y meeting. Wonder what they discussed at this meeting?

13—Final Exams for the grade and high-school pupils. The seniors extended their sympathy.

16—At last! The Junior-Senior Prom. The Seniors had the honor of inaugurating the first prom in U. S. H. S.

17—School closed. Students come back in the afternoon to get their grade cards and to take a parting look at U. S. H. S.

19—Baccalaureate. Reverend Betz delivered the sermon. Music was furnished by the glee clubs and chorus.

21—Commencement Exercises. A sad yet happy day for the Seniors of U. S. H. S. and their many friends.

"Balmy Days" Faculty Play

While a near capacity audience, including many of their students, howled with intense delight, a cast of seventeen members of the Upper Sandusky school faculty presented a rip-roaring three-act comedy "Balmy Days" at the Union school auditorium, Wednesday night, March 27.

From the time the curtain opened until the final scene which found Michael Harley (Principal L. H. Houpt) proposing love and marriage to Grandma Gates, (Miss Addie Schoenberger), the crowd was kept in a constant ripple of laughter at the many funny incidents occurring in the fast moving comedy.

The faculty cast proved that it knew all the tricks of the trade, and the performance indicated that another play will no doubt be offered in the future. Proceeds of the play were used on a fifty-fifty basis by the band and the athletic department. Miss Helen Gregg was the efficient director for "Balmy Days."

Leading parts were taken in a very capable manner and were portrayed excellently by Miss Addie Schoenberger as "Grandma Gates"; C. W. Assenheimer as her son, "Peter Gates"; Miss Gertrude Mittermaier as his wife, "Phyllis Gates"; Miss Margaret Miner as their daughter "Millicent Gates"; Fred Tschanen as "Jack Gates", (Mrs. Gates' cousin from the East); David Henderson as "Gerald Barker"; G. L. Geiger as "Mr. Ogelthorpe Wilston"; and Miss Evelyn Neumeister as "Margery" (grandma's niece).

Other roles which were taken in a splendid manner were: "Theodore Wallace", Jack's nephew, Franklin Gottfried; "Mrs. Ogelthorpe Wilston," Miss Helen Pease; "Miss Letitia Wilston," the Wilstons' daughter, Miss Rebecca Ayers; "Miss Jane Sowerby," a school teacher, Miss Irene Frank; "Michael Harley," a guest, L. H. Houpt; "Enna Johnson," a negihbor, Miss Helen Seebach; "Sybil Hernander," a welfare worker, Miss Lucy Hetzel; Policemen, Carl Hannum and Robert Bolish.

The popular Upper Sandusky swing band furnished music before the play and between acts. Misses Iva Miller and Ellen Matteson had charge of the properties.

Attention Kind Readers!

The publication of the Indian Village Annual each year by the Senior Class of the Upper Sandusky High School is a real undertaking. Aside from planning and assembling the contents of the book, this publication involves considerable financial responsibility.

If it were not for the interest and the generosity of the whose advertisements and compliments appear on the following pages, it would not be possible for the seniors of U. S. H. S. to publish such a fine year book.

Show your appreciation to these friends and business people by patronizing them. Be a loyal booster for our town, "The Indian Village."
